Quarterly Fund Commentary

Moderately aggressive investors generated strong returns in the first quarter of 2024, as most risk assets recorded strong performance. Strong returns from global equities acted as a tailwind to the performance of the Portfolio over the quarter. In addition, the weaker rand acted as a further tailwind to the performance of global asset classes over the quarter.

The WealthStrat Growth Prescient Fund of Funds returned +1.4% for the quarter and has generated a return of +9.8% over the past year.

The Portfolio remains diversified in terms of its exposure to different asset classes, and we remain confident in its ability to deliver inflation-beating returns over the long term, independent of the market environment.

Asset Allocation

Local equities and in particular "SA Inc." stocks moved lower this quarter, as sentiment waned towards South African asset classes, driven largely by the Financial (-7.6%) sector, which started the year on the back foot. Large banking and insurance counters produced weak returns on the back of general weakness in the sector. Firstrand (-13.3%), Discovery (-15.9%) and Standard Bank (-11.0%) were among the biggest laggards. SA Industrials (+0.6%) ended with marginally positive performance, largely driven higher by rand hedges and companies that have a large portion of their revenue generated outside of South Africa, which includes the likes of Richemont (+12.5%) and British American Tobacco (+9.2%). On the other hand, SA Retailers had a tough quarter, ending deeply in the red, with Spar (-25.0%), Woolworths (-15.9%) and Foschini (-9.1%) all ending in negative territory. SA Resources (-1.6%) ended the quarter lower, driven largely by energy and platinum shares. On the flip side, gold companies produced strong returns this quarter, on the back of an increase in the gold price. Global equities had a robust quarter, with most equity markets ending in positive territory. Given the risk-on environment, the S&P 500 (+10.6%) returned its best first quarterly performance in five years, with every sector increasing except real estate. US technology moved higher this quarter, with the tech-heavy Nasdaq 100 (+8.7%) rising strongly. Most global equity markets produced strong hard currency performance this quarter, with the rand weakness providing a further tailwind to performance. Local bonds make up the next largest allocation within the Portfolio. This includes allocations to corporate, government and inflation-linked bonds. Short dated nominal bonds held up well over the quarter and produced a stable performance ahead of longer duration peers. Longer-dated instruments ended the quarter lower, as the yield curve shifted higher, with the longer dated part of the curve rising the most. The weakness in the SA bond market was largely on the back of concerns surrounding South Africa's fiscal position as well as the uncertainty of an election year, which weighed on sentiment. Local cash allocations managed to deliver positive returns this quarter and was one of the few local asset classes to deliver a positive performance. Offshore bond and cash allocations detracted from performance on the back of improving news on the global economy as well as higher inflation, which caused yields to move higher, providing a headwind for fixed income asset classes. The weak rand, however, acted as a tailwind to the performance of offshore allocations. A small allocation to local listed property contributed to performance this quarter, as the property sector continued on its strong run, ahead of most local asset classes on the back of strong performance from the larger listed players including Redefine (+2.6%) and offshore focused Nepi Rockcastle (+7.6%), which led the sector higher. The fund's asset allocation changed slightly as we reduced exposure to SA listed property over the quarter.

Fund Selection

The contribution from fund selection was mixed for the quarter.

Nedgroup Investments Global Emerging Markets Equity FF delivered positive performance over the quarter, however, the fund lagged behind peers that had larger allocations to developed market equities. Key emerging markets including China and India delivered weaker returns relative to key developed markets including the US, Japan and Europe. The fund's exposure to Taiwan Semiconductor (+26.1%), SK Hynix (+23.7%) and Max Healthcare (+19.0%) were the largest contributors to performance over the quarter, while exposure to HDFC Bank (-15.5%), Sunny Optical Technology (-43.7%) and AIA Group (-23.0%) were the largest detractors.

Fairtree Equity Prescient produced a second quartile performance, ending the quarter in negative territory. While the performance is disappointing the fund outperformed the ASISA South Africa general equity category and performed well in a particularly weak environment. Key detractors include the fund's exposure to energy and platinum holdings including Sasol (-19.9%), Northam Platinum (-18.8%) and Impala Platinum (-14.2%). In addition to this, the fund's exposure to SA financials including Firstrand (-13.3%) and Absa (-9.5%) contributed to the relative underperformance. On the other hand, the fund's exposure to rand hedges and gold companies contributed to performance. These include AngloGold Ashanti (+24.1%), Prosus (+9.1%), Naspers (+7.3%) and British American Tobacco (+10.2%) to name a few.

Nedgroup Investments Core Global FF produced strong performance over the quarter, which was in line with peers. The primary contributor to performance was the fund's 67% exposure to global equity, as global equity markets continued their strong run in the first quarter of the year. Rand's weakness over the quarter also contributed to the fund's overall performance.

During the quarter the portfolio was restructured to remove direct SA listed property exposure. The investment thesis has played out and property has re-rated significantly over the past few years. The proceeds were redirected to cash and short duration bonds given the attractiveness of South African cash rates. In addition to this, the portfolio was restructured to increase direct offshore as well as total equity.

Summary

We are pleased that the Portfolio managed to generate a strong return over the first quarter in a particularly weak local environment. The Portfolio continues to be allocated to a diverse range of attractively priced local and global asset classes and we are confident that it will be able to deliver on its objective over the long term. The fund has adhered to its policy objective.

Fund Specific Risks

Default risk: The risk that the issuers of fixed income instruments may not be able to meet interest payments nor repay the money they have borrowed. The issuers credit quality is vital. The worse the credit quality, the greater the risk of default and therefore investment loss.

Derivatives risk: The use of derivatives could increase overall risk by magnifying the effect of both gains and losses in a Fund. As such, large changes in value and potentially large financial losses could result.

Developing Market (excluding SA) risk: Some of the countries invested in may have less developed legal, political, economic and/or other systems. These markets carry a higher risk of financial loss than those in countries generally regarded as being more developed.

Foreign Investment risk: Foreign securities investments may be subject to risks pertaining to overseas jurisdictions and markets, including (but not limited to) local liquidity, macroeconomic, political, tax, settlement risks and currency fluctuations.

Interest rate risk: The value of fixed income investments (e.g. bonds) tends to be inversely related to interest and inflation rates. Hence their value decreases when interest rates and/or inflation rises.

Property risk: Investments in real estate securities can carry the same risks as investing directly in real estate itself. Real estate prices move in response to a variety of factors, including local, regional and national economic and political conditions, interest rates and tax considerations.

Currency exchange risk: Changes in the relative values of individual currencies may adversely affect the value of investments and any related income.

Geographic / Sector risk: For investments primarily concentrated in specific countries, geographical regions and/or industry sectors, their resulting value may decrease whilst portfolios more broadly invested might grow.

Derivative counterparty risk: A counterparty to a derivative transaction may experience a breakdown in meeting its obligations thereby leading to financial loss.

Liquidity risk: If there are insufficient buyers or sellers of particular investments, the result may lead to delays in trading and being able to make settlements, and/or large fluctuations in value. This may lead to larger financial losses than expected.

Equity investment risk: The value of equities (e.g. shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. In the event of a company default (e.g. bankruptcy), the owners of their equity rank last in terms of any financial payment from that company.

Disclaimer

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's. During the phase in period TER's do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

A Fund of Funds is a portfolio that invests in portfolios of collective investment schemes, which levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure for these portfolios.

The Manager retains full legal responsibility for any third-party-named portfolio. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by Prescient by or before 13:00 (SA), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time Prescient shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. Funds are priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund. Prices are published daily and are available on the Prescient website.

Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request.

*The investment performance is for illustrative purposes only. The investment performance is calculated by taking the actual initial fees and all ongoing fees into account for the amount shown and income is reinvested on the reinvestment date.
