INVESTMENT STRATEGY
The Tweedy, Browne International Value Fund (CHF) seeks capital appreciation by investing throughout the world in a diversified portfolio consisting primarily of equity securities. Investments are focused in developed markets, and where practicable, foreign currency exposure is hedged to the Swiss Franc. The Sub-Fund is actively managed without reference to any benchmark.

RISK INDICATOR DEFINITION
In addition to risk captured by the indicator, the overall Sub-Fund value may be considerably affected by: market risk, liquidity risk, currency risk, derivatives risk, counterparty risk and operational risk.

COMMITMENT OF THE ADVISER
For over one hundred years, we have been active in the value investing business. It is our only business, and it is how we invest our own money. We have long believed in eating our own cooking. As of 30 September 2026 Tweedy, Browne's current Managing Directors, retired principals, current employees, and their immediate family members had more than USD 1.8 billion invested in portfolios combined with or similar to client portfolios, including USD 71 million in the International Value Fund (CHF).

COMMENTARY & MARKET OUTLOOK (All facts & figures are as of 30/09/2026, unless otherwise noted)

Global equity markets continued their seemingly inexorable advance during the third quarter, shrugging off persistent inflation, geopolitical turmoil, and mounting government deficits. Buoyed by solid corporate earnings and enthusiasm surrounding artificial intelligence, investors appeared willing to look past these gathering clouds. With US equity valuations already elevated, the old adage that markets climb a wall of worry seemed particularly apt.

An encouraging development in 2026 has been broader market participation beyond the large-cap US technology companies that dominated returns in recent years. After more than a decade of extraordinary US market leadership, investors appear to be rediscovering the merits of attractively priced businesses outside the United States. We continue to find a wider assortment of opportunities in international markets, particularly among established companies with durable competitive positions, sound balance sheets, and meaningful free cash flow. That said, a rather narrow and familiar group of large cap U.S. technology companies once again led global equity returns during the quarter.

Against this backdrop, the Tweedy, Browne International Value Fund (CHF) returned 0.81% for the quarter and 10.02% YTD, compared to 0.89% and 8.96%, respectively, for the MSCI World Index (Hedged to CHF). While the Sub-Fund modestly trailed its benchmark during the quarter, it maintained a meaningful advantage for the first nine months of the year.

Quarterly returns benefited principally from strength in Industrials, particularly CNH Industrial. Consumer Discretionary and Energy, including Pets at Home and TotalEnergies, contributed as well. These gains were partially offset by weakness in Health Care holdings, most notably Ionis Pharmaceuticals and Nakanishi. Communication Services and Consumer Staples, including Auto Trader and Nestlé, detracted as well. Geographically, Britain and France were particularly helpful, while US holdings detracted.

During the quarter, the Sub-Fund established new positions in Billerud, a Swedish paper and packaging producer; LVMH, a French luxury goods group; Minth Group, an automotive components supplier; Puregold Price Club, a Philippine grocery retailer; and Toyo Tire, a Japanese tire manufacturer. We also added to Zoetis, a leading animal health company, at prices we believed offered attractive discounts to intrinsic value. These purchases reflect our search for financially sound businesses with durable competitive positions and favorable long-term prospects. We exited Ionis Pharmaceuticals and UniFirst, and trimmed Computacenter and Vertex Pharmaceuticals following substantial share price appreciation, reflecting our willingness to harvest gains and redeploy capital when prospective returns become less compelling.

While we welcome renewed interest in non-US equities, today's investment environment continues to call for selectivity. Elevated valuations, ambitious earnings expectations, and substantial AI-related capital spending leave little room for disappointment. The promise of artificial intelligence does not necessarily translate into attractive shareholder returns, particularly when share prices anticipate considerable success.

We are not suggesting that investors abandon sensibly valued equities. Rather, today's valuation disparities reinforce the importance of selectivity. We continue to find opportunities among international businesses, particularly smaller and medium-capitalization companies with durable franchises and sound financial characteristics, whose prospective returns appear more reasonable than those of highly valued US companies.

Our Sub-Fund remains broadly diversified, emphasizing purchases at meaningful discounts to intrinsic value while remaining attentive to financial strength and downside risk. Should markets become more discriminating about valuation, we believe this discipline will serve shareholders well. In the meantime, we intend to continue going what we have always done: seeking to purchase good businesses at prices that provide a reasonable margin of safety.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CISs are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Fund. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. The Sub-Fund may enter into forward exchange contracts for the purpose of hedging its perceived exposure to certain foreign currencies. The Sub-Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. During the phase in period TERs do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Sub-Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Sub-Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Sub-Fund and impacts Sub-Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Sub-Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period.
